CAPTAIN CANOT. UTHOR OF THE GREAT BOOK JUST BE-A ING PUBLISHED, SPEARS of HAMPTON'S

GREAT CURE OF REMUMATISM CONTRACTED UNDER TROPICAL CLIMATES. BALTIMORE, Md., June 4, 1854. Mr. Stockbridge, of the Fountain Hotel Light street,

Baltimore-Dear Sir : Being on the point of leaving the city. I avail myself of a few idle moments to thank you kindly for the medicine you sent me, and shich has restored me to the use of my limbs. I beg you to send me four bottles more, to carry on my voyage. Since I had the fortune to use Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture my confidence is so strong that, in gratitude to the proprietore of said medicine, I beg you to present my respects to them, and induce them to make it more publicly known as a sure

Rheumacic cure. Having called on me on the 19th of April last, and seen me prostrated on my bed. useless in all my li ubs, you can appreciate nearly as well as myself the prompt relief I received from Dr. Hampton's Tincture, and I am positive had it not been for your strong and foreible recommendations I should still have been in bed. It is really a pity this specific should not be approved by medical men, and like all patent drugs it give to such preparations. I myleif, who was always opposed to a patentel specific, took this medicine with reluctance, and without confidence in it. and it was only through your disinterested, friendly recommendations, and my critical situation that induced me to try this really beneficial Vegetable

You may inform Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray that they are at liberty to make use of my name in the support of the good effects of Dr. Hampton's Vegetable l'incture, as it has cured me in five weeks of a chronic Inflammatory Rheumatism, contracted under tropical climates, and of seven years' periodical duration. I have only used three bottles, and find that even the deformed parts of my hands are fast returning to their former natural appearance. I have been under the treatment of several phy sicians in London and Paris, without any apparenbenefit; also, while in New York, having tried the hompsonian and Homospathic remedies, after having been tormented with galvanic batteries, cold and aromatic baths, and hundreds of internal and external medicines, all to no effect, I am, so far, cured by this Hampton's Vege able Tracture only. Therefore, my ear sir, accept of the assurance of my gratitude, and believe me your well wisher.

THOMAS CANOT. REV. VERNON ESKRIDGE, U. S. N. PORTSMOUTH, VA, Aug. 18, 1851. Mr. J. E. Boush—Sear sir: While I am, in gene ral, opposed to patent medicines, cander compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. For several months past I have used it in my family; and in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, dizziness, and general debility, with entire success. So far as my experience extends, therefore, I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted as a safe and efficient remedy.

I am, respectfully, yours, VERNON ESERIDGE.

rounded by all the eclat which attaches to a prima donna's successful first season. The formularies of examination were not so brief then as we now thankfully acknowledge them to be. When Mmlle. Bellarosa presented herself with her dame de compagnie, to undergo the ordeal, the young custom house clerk gazed more intently upon her than was usual with him in passing travelers along. It might have been her fame, or it might have been her beauty, undimmed by the sea sorrow of a rough passage; or perhaps it was her fame and beauty combined. He limited himself, however, to the formal questions, and Mmlle. Bellarosa, glad to be dismissed, sought her hotel. The next morning she was anxious to set out for Paris; but it was found that the provisional passport usually given in exchange, until the original was returned at the central office in the capital, was not forthcoming. The commissionaire of the hotel had charged for it in his bill-it was his way of doing business-before he received it; he could not tell why the passport had not been delivered; there must be some little mistake; "I will arrange you that," were his own (English) words, "before you can think twice upon him;" and he really departed with the intention of fulfilling his promise. But in half an hour he returned with out instituting disadvantageous comparisons, I shall merely remark that Mmlle. Bellarosa behaved admirably, and walked with her dame de compagnie and the commissionaire to the bureau. The individual who presided there was magnificently attired, perhaps for the occasion. Without describing his toilet, it may be enough to say that he had on a pair of very tight-fitting kid gloves, so elosely buttoned at the wrists that how he managed to write with them seemed a miracle. It was he who had officiated at the custom-house, and had taken down the address of Mmlle. Ballerosa. He was profuse in expressions of courtesy and regret. It desolated him to be compelled to demand the presence of so, charming a person, but the rigor of the law (he was telling stories all the time) left him no alternative. A million of times would he have preferred to die under the most fearful tortures, rather than, of his own free will, have caused the slightest inconvenience to Mademoiselle; but a Frenchman's duty to his country was paramount over every other consideration.

His duties did not, however, appear to tered, would not have occupied him two tience was at last exhausted, and sh end of his task. Like everything else

TIMELY REBUKE .-- Dr. Bethune, of Brooklyn, in a recent speech before the "Southern Aid Society," in N. York city administered the following rebuke to those ministers of the Gospel who deem it their duty to meddle with "the things that are Cæsar's," as well as to care for the things that are God's. The learned divine remarked:

"If this were a political meeting, we might perhaps allow ourselves to discuss points not in place now; but for my own part, I do not believe in clergymen attending political meetings, and making political speeches. [Sensation.] My office is to preach the Gospel, and I was ordained to preach the gospel, and with the he'p of God, that I mean to keep to. When I have fairly gone through preaching the gospel, and exhausted all its precious themes, and prevailed with it over every heart, I may turn my attention to the law, and perhaps try to enlighten my hearers on matters of political jurisprudence, if they will consent to listen, or think that I can teach them anything on that point. [Sensation.]-Now, sir, as Christians, what is our duty-our great and only commission as a Church? It is to "preach the gospel to every creature;" no matter where he lives, under what ws, with what color. what his condition - he is a sinner, and we must preach to him the gospel. We serve under a captain whose glorious title is "Captain of our Salvation," and he says, " My kingdom is not of this world," and adds, " If my kingdom was of this world, then would my servants fight." The converse is obvious-we have no mission to fight, and no right to fight. "The weapons of our warfare are not carnal." We may be thankful that they are not, for if we had to fight with weapons with weapons fashioned to the world's war, the little flock would stand but a poor chance among the warriors of infidelity; but our weapons are mighty through God. From him only our strength comes. He has ordered and combined us under the banner of the cross, on which Christ died for sinners. When he sent his church forth on their enterprise to bless the world, he gave them but one instrument, one choice, one method, and only one. Out of the treasures of his omnipotence, his infinite wisdom selected only one gift. His church nothing else-it is the Bible. It is distrust or presumption which thinks of any other means; and I believe that the church will be severely scourged by the Lord for losing so much time, and wasting so much effort upon side issues, which sunder us from the main purpose of our calling. Our duty, sir, is to obey our master, and such only should be our aim. The question for us is not-what do we think is right? or what do other men be very pressing; for he immediately think is right ?- but what has the Lord commanded us to do? The rule of Christain action is, "Not my will but thine." We have no other resource.

EMIGRATION TO CALIFORNIA. - During the nine months of the present year 43,-028 passengers reached San Francisco by sea, and 16,284 departed, leaving a net addition to our population of 28,774. Of this number, however, we are sorry to say that 13,255, or nearly one half, were Chinese-the remainder, 13,489, being chiefly from the Atlantic States and Europe. Since the first of January last no less than 5,715 females have arrived. while only 736 have departed, leaving a net gain of 4,979, or more than one-third the net increase, exclusive of Chinese. Of children, the arrivals during the same time amountea to 1,270, the the departures to 340—leaving a surplus of 950.— This is a most gratifying exhibit, and proves more conclusively than could any other evidence, that the recent immigrants intend to make their homes among us. The influx of immigrants over the Plains this season is variously estimated between 18,000 and 20,000. It would. perhaps, be fair to put it at 20,000which, added to the excess of arrivals by sea, would give a net addition of 46,774 to our population during the first three quarters of a year. The total increase by the end of the year will be about 55,horses are ready in the carriage; I wait | 000-altogether a very satisfactory result.—California paper.
